Sir David Lyndsay's Heraldry.

A FACSIMILE OF THE ANCIENT HERALDIC MANUSCRIPT,
EMBLAZONED BY THE CELEBRATED
SIR DAVID LYND SAY OF THE MOUNT,
WITH AN INTRODUCTION,
BY DAVID LAING, LL.D.

This exceedingly curious Manuscript, executed in the year 1542, contains, besides the Armorial Bearings of many Foreign Princes, and of various Members of the Royal Family of Scotland, a SCOTISH PEERAGE AND BARONAGE OF THE PERIOD.

Of the ancient nobles of Scotland, no fewer than one hundred and fourteen Coats of Arms are given; while the Baronage, which includes the principal Families of the country, exhibits one hundred and ninety-four Shields and Quarterings. Some of the Blazings are accompanied by explanations in the hand-writing of the author, all of which are given in facsimile.

It is well known that Sir David Lyndsay was the most skillful herald of his age, and a facsimile, therefore, of his work on this subject, blazoned by his own hand, will, it is hoped, be acceptable to all interested in the subject. Although the work is nearly the earliest extant upon the subject of Heraldry, it presents a most favourable specimen of the state of the Art in Scotland, at the period of its execution. The drawing of the Manuscript is beautiful, and the colouring brilliant and correctly heraldic in the highest degree.

The New Edition, printed on the finest hand-made paper, is in two forms:—

- I. Folio, cloth boards, uncut edges, strictly limited to 250 copies, each numbered and signed.
- II. Large folio, cloth boards, carefully printed on THICK hand-made PAPER.

Fifty copies only printed, each numbered and signed. ALL SOLD.

In addition to the above, five copies were printed for presentation to Public Libraries.

* * A Facsimile Plate, and full prospectus of the work,
* will be forwarded on application.

The impression limited to 250 copies, beautifully printed on hand-made paper.
This magnificent Heraldic Manuscript, in the possession of the Faculty of Advocates, was executed in the year 1542, and is among the earliest Heraldic works extant. It contains, besides the Armorial Bearings of many Foreign Princes, and of the Royal Family of Scotland, a Scottish Peerage and Baronage. The former includes the Arms in full blazon of 114 of the ancient Nobles of Scotland, and the latter exhibits the Shields and Quarterings of 194 of the principal Families in the country.
The Manuscript was approved by the Privy Council assembled at Holyrood House in 1630, and is therefore of the highest authority. A limited impression of the work was issued under the care of the present editor in 1822, and has long been exceedingly rare, selling at upwards of twenty-five pounds.

DOUGLAS (Gavin, Bishop of Dunkeld), Poetical Works of, edited by JOHN SMALL, with Biographical Introduction, Notes and Glossary, facsimiles, 4 vols post 8vo, calf extra, gilt tops, uncut edges, 80s 1874

"Bishop Douglas is best known by his translation of Virgil's Aeneid into Scottish verse, executed in 1513, and first published in 1553. It is remarkable as being the first version of a classic (unless we call Boethius a classic) into any British tongue."

THE SHIP OF FOOLS, translated by Alexander Barclay, Preste, a faithful reprint of the Pynson Edition of 1509, with Life of Barclay, Introduction, Notes and Glossary by T. H. JAMIESON, late Keeper of the Advocates' Library, Edinburgh, illustrated with one hundred and twenty quaint and interesting facsimile Wood Engravings, 2 vols crown 4to, tree calf extra, gilt tops, edges uncut, £3, 10s 1874

"All ancient and satirical writings, even those of an inferior cast, have their merit, and deserve attention, as they transmit pictures of familiar manners and preserve popular customs. In this light at least Barclay's Ship of Fools, which is a general satire on the times, will be found entertaining."

"There are few books more interesting to the collector than editions of the Ship of Fools, of which Pynson's has the distinguished honour of being the parent impression in our own country."

THE LIBRARY EDITION OF THE WORKS OF
SIR DAVID LYND SAY OF THE MOUNT,
LYON KING AT ARMS.

EDITED WITH MEMOIR, NOTES AND GLOSSARY,
BY DAVID LAING, LL.D.

In Three Volumes, Crown 8vo, cloth. With numerous Facsimiles, Woodcuts, &c. Price £3, 3s.

One of the last works which the late Mr DAVID LAING was engaged upon, and to the preparation of which he devoted several of his maturer years, was the present Edition of the Poems of Sir DAVID LYND SAY of the Mount. The printing of it was commenced in the year 1865, and the proof of the last sheet of the notes in the third volume was found in his repositories with his final corrections made for the press.

Mr LAING intended that the Library Edition of Lyndsay, uniform with his Editions of the Works of William Dunbar and other early Scottish Poets, should be complete and unabridged, and with this in view he was specially careful to form the text upon a collation of all the existing Early Editions and Manuscripts. The result of Mr LAING's great and intelligent labours will be at once seen by an examination of the work as now ready to be issued.

Throughout the three volumes there are Twenty-seven Facsimiles of original Title Pages and Woodcuts from early editions, all of which were chosen and approved by Mr LAING.

The Glossary is the only part which did not receive Mr LAING's supervision, but the Publisher has the satisfaction to state that Mr John Small, M.A.,—the Editor of the Library Edition of the Works of Gawin Douglas, Bishop of Dunkeld, and compiler of the very valuable Glossary therein,—having undertaken the task of furnishing a reference Glossary to the present work, has done so in a thorough and satisfactory manner.

A notable feature in the present edition, and for the treatment of which Mr LAING was specially qualified, is the Bibliographical Account of the various Editions and Manuscripts of Lyndsay's works—scattered as they are among many public and private libraries.

For the purpose of eventually enhancing the value of the present work, the impression has been limited to Four hundred and eighty-five copies, all of which will be numbered and initialed by the Publisher.
